Social Contract

- Norm is to not stay late, but you're welcome to stay
- When you wanna work on a feature, Slack it out
- Over-communication is better than under-communication
- Only other members can approve pull requests (can't approve your own)
- Standup morning, post lunch, and before end of day
- Follow Leo's git instructions to merge! (If you're working on a feature independently and GitHub-master is ahead of you, commit in your feature branch, checkout to your master, pull master, checkout back to your feature branch, git merge master, and then git push.)
- Prettier configuration: no semi-colons
- Don't be afraid to ask for help rather than spend a lot of time trying to figure it out on your own
